The Korea Times and the Korean American Scholarship Foundation have put together an informative seminar for college bound students and their parents. Panelists will offer first-hand accounts of applying to colleges, choosing a major, and advancing to graduate and professional schools. The panel will consist of current college students, a high school college counselor, an educational consultant, recent graduates, parents and working professionals. The aim of the seminar is to offer personal insight to prospective college students and their families that will better enable them to make the right choices.

The panel discussion will be moderated by Paula Yoo. Paula Yoo is an acclaimed children's book author and novelist, TV drama screenwriter, and musician. Her debut novel, GOOD ENOUGH, was released February 5, 2008 from HarperCollins. She is also the author of the children's non-fiction picture books Shining Star: The Anna May Wong Story (illustrated by Lin Wang) (Lee & Low Books 2009) and Sixteen Years in Sixteen Seconds: The Sammy Lee Story (illustrated by Dom Lee) (Lee & Low Books 2005). When not writing, Paula is a professional freelance violinist.
