Additional information about your Floating Rate Notes: For floating rate securities, the estimated accrued interest and estimated annual income are based on the current floating coupon rate and may not reflect historic rates within the accrual period.

Important Information About Auction Rate Securities: For certain Auction Rate Securities there is no or limited liquidity. Therefore, the price(s) for these Auction Rate Securities are indicated as not available by a dash "-". There can be no assurance that a successful auction will occur or that a secondary market exists or will develop for a particular security.

Important Pricing Information: Prices of securities not actively traded may not be available, and are indicated by a dash "-".

Asset Classification: We classify assets based on general characteristics such as: income generation, underlying capital structure, or exposure to certain market sectors. As many assets contain characteristics of more than one asset class, allocations may be under or over inclusive. Asset allocations may differ from product allocations.

The Other asset class contains securities that are not included in the various asset class classifications. This can include, but is not limited to, non-traditional investments such as some Equity Unit Trusts, Index Options and Structured Investments issued outside of Morgan Stanley. Additionally, investments for which we are unable to procure market data to properly classify them will appear in the Other category.

Performance: Performance results are annualized for time periods greater than one year and include all cash and cash equivalents, realized and unrealized capital gains and losses, and dividends, interest and income. The investment results depicted herein represent historical performance. As a result of recent market activity, current performance may vary from the figures shown. Please contact your Financial Advisor for up to date performance information. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

Market values used for performance calculation do not include performance ineligible assets and thus may differ from asset allocation market values. Common examples of performance ineligible assets include life insurance, some annuities and assets held externally. Unless otherwise indicated, performance is a composite calculation on the entire portfolio and may include brokerage and investment advisory accounts, as well as assets for different accounts included in this report. The accounts included in the composite may have (or have had) different investment objectives and strategies, been subject to different restrictions, and incurred different types of fees, markups, commissions and other charges. Accordingly, performance results may blend the performance of assets and strategies that may not have been available in all of the accounts at all times during the reporting period. In addition, accounts in the composite may have changed from brokerage to advisory or vice versa. Accounts may also have moved from one advisory program to another (including from a discretionary program to a non-discretionary program).

Performance information may cover the full history of the account(s) or just the performance of an account(s) since the inception of the current program(s). Performance results on individual accounts will vary and may differ from the composite returns. Your Financial Advisor can provide you with individual account portfolio composition and performance information. For investment advisory accounts, please see the Morgan Stanley Smith Barney Form ADV Part 2 or applicable disclosure brochure. For brokerage accounts, please speak to your Financial Advisor for more information on commissions and other account fees and expenses. Performance inception date does not necessarily correspond to the account opening date. Where multiple accounts are included in performance calculations, the inception date is the oldest performance inception. Performance data may not be available for all periods as some accounts included in performance may have more recent performance inception dates. Consequently, the actual performance for a group of accounts may differ from reported performance. Please ask your Financial Advisor for the performance inception date for each account.

Account No. 719-125704

Prepared on April 12, 2016 | Reporting Currency: USD

Gross of Fees: As fees are deducted quarterly, the compounding effect will be to increase the impact of the fees by an amount directly related to the gross account performance. For example, for an account with an initial value of $100,000 and a 2% annual fee, if the gross performance is 10% per year over a three year period, the compounding effect of the fees will result in a net annual compound rate of return of approximately 7.81% per year over a three year period, and the total value of the client's portfolio at the end of the three year period would be approximately $133,100 without the fees and $125,307 with the fees.

Indices: Benchmark indices and blends included in this material are for informational purposes only, are provided solely as a comparison tool and may not reflect the underlying composition and/or investment objective(s) associated with the account(s). In some circumstances, the benchmark index may not be an appropriate benchmark for use with the specific composite portfolio. For instance, an index may not take into consideration certain changes that may have occurred in the portfolio since the inception of the account(s), (e.g., changes from a brokerage to an advisory account or from one advisory program to another, asset class changes, or index changes for individual managers). The volatility of the index used for comparison may be materially different from that of the performance shown. Indices are unmanaged and not available for direct investment. Index returns do not take into account fees or other charges. Such fees and charges would reduce performance. Please see the Benchmark Definitions section of this material for additional information on the indices used for comparison.

Additional information about your Alternative Investments: An alternative investment is any non-traditional asset beyond stocks, bonds, and cash, and may include derivatives such as options and futures, leveraged equity or bonds, private equity, currencies, commodities, less common types of stocks such as natural resources stocks, master limited partnerships (MLPs), and real estate investment trusts (REITs), or even collectibles such as paintings or other works of art, or luxury items such as wine and spirits. Many of these alternative investments typically have eligibility requirements that cannot be met by the average investor and are therefore not appropriate for all investors. Typical alternative investment vehicles are generally private offerings and can include hedge funds and funds of hedge funds, managed futures funds, and other vehicles. They utilize alternative strategies and investing techniques such as long/short, hedged equity and event driven, to name just a few. Often, alternative strategies seek to provide competitive returns relative to a given benchmark, while at the same time limiting downside risk in the event of a market downturn, although objectives vary widely depending on the type of strategy. In recent years, certain open-end mutual funds can now be classified as another type of alternative investment vehicle as they seek alternative-like exposure and these may be included in the Alternative Investments category. They are publicly offered and more accessible by a larger number of investors. Both types of alternative investment vehicles often seek investment returns that have lower correlation to traditional markets and increased diversification in an overall portfolio. However, unlike hedge funds, open-end mutual funds that seek alternative-like exposure do not require investor pre-qualifications, enable efficient tax reporting, are subject to lower investment minimums and lower fees, provide greater portfolio transparency, daily liquidity, and are required to provide daily NAV pricing. While alternative mutual funds offer some advantages, generally they must utilize a more limited investment universe and, therefore, will have relatively higher correlation with traditional market returns. Additionally, open-end mutual funds are statutorily limited in their use of leverage, short sales, and the use of derivative instruments as compared to hedge funds.

Potential benefits to hedge funds include greater flexibility in terms of seeking enhanced returns through the use of leverage, exposure to less liquid investments, and the more flexible use of complex instruments such as derivatives. Because of the differences noted above, performance for a mutual fund that seeks alternative-like exposure and its portfolio characteristics may vary from a hedge fund that is seeking a similar investment objective. Historically, hedge funds in certain categories have enjoyed a performance advantage relative to their mutual fund counterparts.

It is important to note in this report that Morgan Stanley categorizes both types of alternative investment vehicles under the category "Alternatives" in the asset classification based view and under the category "Other" in a Product based view. This differs from your official Morgan Stanley account statement, which assigns alternative mutual funds under the category of "Mutual Funds" and typical alternative investment vehicles such as hedge funds, under the category "Alternatives".

Please note that no formal trading markets exist for private alternative investments. They are generally illiquid and may not be currently priced and values may not necessarily have been reduced to reflect prior distributions. If values and prices are assigned to the investments, they are estimates, based on information typically received from the funds' general partners, managing members, sponsors, administrators, or advisors of the funds and/or underlying funds, are typically subject to change and are as-of a date prior to the date of this report. Where applicable, see the particular fund statement for the final prices. Values and prices may not be realized upon the sale or ultimate disposition of the securities. For investment in funds valued in non-US Dollar currencies, the valuations received have been converted to US Dollars using then prevailing foreign exchange rates. If index values are illustrated in the report, they may be more up to date than the data for the alternative investments illustrated. Private Alternative Investments listed in this report may not be in our possession, and are included solely as a service to the client, are not covered by the Securities Investor

Any other fees or expenses associated with the account, such as third party custodian fees, may not have been deducted. Please see the Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC Form ADV Part 2 Brochure for advisory accounts and/or any applicable brokerage account trade confirmation statements for a full disclosure of the applicable charges, fees and expenses. Your Financial Advisor will provide those documents to you upon request.
